Must We Have a Fight?
New Band Wagon.
Cutting Down Space.
Wall St., Busy, Blue.

—By Arthur Brisbane—
AN ENGLISH NEWSPAPER suggests that Europe should unite against us in an economic boycott, as European countries united against Germany in 1914.

It would be too bad to have an industrial, economic fight. But, fortunately, we are ready for it, if it must come.

The ten billions that we send to our dear friends in Europe last time would be spent on our own fight this time, and 100 billions more if necessary.

Three American workmen can produce as much steel as ten British workmen.

Ten American automobile mechanics can produce as many automobiles as 100 French, German or British mechanics.

We are meek and peaceful, but if they want a fight, they probably can get it.

A new Republican band wagon has started on its way toward 1932, labelled "win" and "defeat." W. Morrow, the first passenger, is smiling on the top seat. Other seats will be crowded soon, for Mr. Morrow, a "modern" man, has his eye on the prize in New Jersey more than $1.

Mr. Einstein says space is the important thing. He may be right, but the genius of man in making space less important every day.

Yesterday, at a world power conference in Berlin, high powered scientists discussed the latest possibilities of applying electric and other power.

At the same time the United States National Electric Light Association was meeting in San Francisco.

Scientists, using the world-wide radio system provided by Mr. H. A. S. Smith, head of the American National Broadcasting System, talked and listened to each other as though they were in one room, instead of being thousands of miles apart.

In San Francisco, Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Co., talked and listened to the news in Berlin. In London, Marconi, great Italian, talked to the Berlin and San Francisco scientists.

Delegates representing the German government talked to Americans in San Francisco, where Matthew S. Sloan, president of the National Electric Light Association, gave information about American methods.

When Owen D. Young finished with the Berlin scientists, Mr. Thomas A. Edison, greatest of them all, waited to the telephone in New Jersey and talked to Berlin, San Francisco and London at the same time, men in all three cities hearing him, within the same fraction of second.

That is a real miracle.

A busy and somewhat agitated day in Wall Street yesterday. $425,000 shares of stock were sold. The selling was orderly, no sign of panic. There is comfort in the reflection that somebody must have bought everything that was sold.

A few months ago, 20,000,000 Americans were buying foolishly. Now, they are selling foolishly.

Lately on they regret yesterday's selling as much as they recently regretted hasty buying.

In New York, some man, probably a fanatic, killed two and wrote to a newspaper promising to kill another last night, and 13 more later.

For reasons not clear the killer selects as victims men sitting with women in cars parked in isolated places.

In his district the parking of such cars will probably diminish for a few evenings.

Killing without motive, it may be impossible to find him as it was impossible to find the notorious "Jack the Ripper" who had killed so many women in London.

The incident should convince men, and their women companions especially, that it is foolish to risk murder, robbery and disfigure, as thousands do now every day.

Chicago struggling with the gangster problem, anxious to learn how Chicago was killed, Tribune reporter, will realize that you cannot overcome organized crime by pure force or by force alone.

It would be worth while to send a commission to learn from Mussolini how he managed to cut out Mafia men and other secret societies in Sicily. It was done gently, but it was DONE.

A revolution, starting in—

NEW YORK ROARS OUT WELCOME TO HERO

Jammed Streets Cheer Returning Explorer in Triumphant Parade

New York, June 19—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, aerial conqueror of North and South Poles, came back to New York today after nearly two years of exploration at "the bottom of the world" and was acclaimed by the city's millions with a fervor whole-souled enthusiasm that almost overwhelmed him.

It was one of the greatest receptions ever accorded to a returning hero, and was reminiscent of the triumphant welcome given Cot. Charles A. Lindbergh when he returned after his epic flight to Paris three years ago.

Byrd's handsome face was a study in emotion as he stood in the prow of the city welcome steamer Macon, his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Bolling Byrd, at his side, as it docked at the Battery shortly before noon and just before he was narrated in triumph up Broadway to City Hall to receive the official greeting from Mayor James J. Walker.

$225,000 GIFTS ARE ANNOUNCED AT HARVARD COMMENCEMENT

SEE GIVEN DEGREES

Record Number of 1965 Are Awarded Degrees on the Completion of Courses

With announcement of gifts amounting to $11,285,775, graduation of a record class and the award of seven honorary degrees, Harvard today brought its 294th commencement exercises to a close.

Seven men of affairs received honorary degrees, a small number compared with 1928, previous years, but 1965 degrees in course, the largest number in the history of the university, were awarded.

Four honorary degrees in the law were conferred by President A. Lawrence Lowell, and one each in arts, divinity and science.

Honored in the law were Orville Wright, pioneer of the air; President Karl Taylor Compton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Raymond E. Gilbert, American representative commissioner, and Frederick R. Fish, lawyer and educator.

THREAT OF RAIN. For most of the day, Judge Michael H. Sullivan, Boston educator and chairman of the survey committee of the Boston schools, chosen for divinity, Rev. Henry B. Fausbush, dean of the Harvard Divinity School, and William M. Wheeler, dean of the Harvard Law School.

The largest single gift during the past year was $1,544,000, by Edward S. Harkness for construction under the house plan. Anonymous gifts of not less than $25,000 totaled more than $1,300,000, including one donation of $500,000 toward increasing faculty salaries.

Among the larger gifts, and legacies was $750,138 from the estate of Edgar Pierce; $622,841 from the estate of Archibald C. Coolidge; $300,000 from Clarence Dillon; $174,000 from the estate of Arthur Ward.

The Harvard year was the acme of the academic, military procession and Sever Quadrangle, despite the threat of rain, the dark clouds that moved about the old time, was the scene of the 294th commencement exercises. Not a drop of rain fell during the ceremony.

Of the degree awards, 634 were made in the college and university, 193 in the law, 100 in the divinity school, 41 with honors.

Thus more than one-third, or over 25 per cent of those graduating from the college, did so with honors, and this, too, was a record.

286 LAW GRADS. In the graduate school of arts and sciences, 158 men won the degree of master of arts, 73 that of doctor of philosophy and seven that of associate in arts.

The engineering school graduated 240 bachelors, 15 masters, 15 doctors, 25 masters of science in engineering and six doctors of science.

The law school graduated 296 bachelors of law, 20 masters of law and 10 doctors in the science of jurisprudence. The business school graduated 221 men, 34 of them with distinction, and awarded a degree of doctor of commercial science.

Medical graduated 134 doctors, 22 with honors. Other departments of the university awarded the remaining degrees in larger numbers.

One had received A. B. summa cum laude, and 20 A. B. summa laude, highest honors of the college.

HIGH COLLEGE HONORS. John C. Miller of Tacoma, Wash. was the lone S. B. honor graduate. The A. B. with the highest honors were as follows:

Benjamin Alexander, Dorchester; Edmund Calla Berkeley, Copague, N. Y.; Spencer Brown, Harvard; C. Lyman Henry Butterfield, Rochester, N. Y.; Frank McMillin Chamberlain, Fort.

Joseph Leo Doh, New York City; Jerome David Frank, New York City; Ray Irvine Hardin, Cincinnati; O. Albert Gafford Hart, 24, White Plains, N. Y.; Franklin Haase Kianer, Bethlehem, Pa.; Walter Frederick Kottke, New York City; Edward Van Praag Lee, Colorado Springs, Col.; Benjamin Butler McKever, Jr., Malden; Reginald Henry Phelps, Southwick; Otto Eugene Schoon-Bene, New York City; George Winslow Simpson, St. Louis, Mo.; John Walker, 34, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Frederick Mendenhall Watkins, Cambridge, R. I.; John Frank Wood, Chester, Pa.

The day diploma, highest honor in the law school, went to Dr. G. J. G. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Clarence Dillius Gelsman won the Endicott Peabody Ballou prize offered the senior entering law school who presents the best all-around record for his college years.

New York's Wild Acclaim of Byrd Rivals Lindy's Welcome

The happiest moment of my life," said the admiral's gray-haired mother, striving to keep the tears from welling in her eyes. Again and again she buried her face in the huge bouquet of flowers she carried.

The admiral's wife, who was preceded by high seas from boarding his flagship the City of New York last night from a specially chartered lug, was now being the way to meet her distinguished husband.

She did not return from the futile trip out to Ambrose Light until 11:30 p. m.

But she was waiting at Pier 4, the Battery, and greeted her husband there. They had time only for a word and then were parted, the admiral entering one car with his mother and his wife another.

Awaiting the admiral at City Hall were three who really had a personal interest in the proceedings. They were Richard E. Byrd, Jr., and the admiral's two little daughters, Evelyn and Katherine. They were fairly dancing with excitement.

Two messenger boys also were waiting at City Hall with telegrams of welcome from Governor Allen of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley of Boston, each message bearing 500 signatures.

City Hall plaza was a riot of excitement. Grandstands seating 5,000 spectators, had been erected. Every seat was taken, and a sea of faces in surrounding buildings looked down as Byrd's car arrived.

The parade was reviewed by Mayor Walker.

"HELLO DICK," SAYS "JIMMY" The Richmond, Va., Light Infantry Blues, which had arrived a moment before, drew up in a guard of honor in front of the southern grand stand and facing the steps of City Hall.

Admiral Byrd, escorted by Grover Whalen, got out of his car and accented the steps to where Mayor Walker was waiting with outstretched hand.

"Hello, Dick," said the mayor. "Hello, Jimmy," the admiral responded.

Mayor Walker, admitting he did not tell Byrd anything he did not already know of his accomplishments, praised the admiral's "far-sighted and intelligent protection" of the city.

And then the dapper little mayor could not resist making one of his "watercooler" remarks to Byrd's three famous achievements—the flight to the North Pole, the Byrd transatlantic hop and the South Pole expedition.

PRESENTED MEDALS. In the vernacular of the day, I have heard of men playing both ends against the middle. But you played both ends against the middle—the two poles and the Atlantic.

"With admiration and love, the people of New York delegate me to say to you, 'Welcome home, welcome home.'"

The mayor then presented a medal of valor to Byrd with a painting of the famous explorer looking down upon the Arctic wastes.

Byrd, in response, paid high tribute to his own sailing.

efficiency not counting. That is why I am so grateful to them." It was the third time Father Knickerbocker had extended to this daring adventurer the mythical keys to the city, the other occasions being after his flight over the North Pole, and after his transatlantic air voyage with Balchen, Acosta and Noville.

Byrd was almost overwhelmed by the warmth of the reception. It was just 11:40 a. m. (E.D.T.) that Byrd set foot again on the turf of Lower Manhattan from which he sailed 20 months ago in his open car and low time and again, his mother, whom he held in a warm embrace for a moment, then turned to other relatives and friends.

"It's good to get back again," he said smiling, as he greeted the city from the radio telephone aboard the Macom. "It's good to have this reception."

Then, turning to the reporters, he spoke of the serious business that took him to the Antarctic and of what his expedition had accomplished.

First, he said, they had discovered and explored 12,000 square miles of land, existence of which only been surmised before. They found rock formations indicating great coal deposits, of commercial significance. They photographed miles on miles of ice-covered terrain, and they definitely established the need in Antarctica of a permanent weather station, of the city, at that time.

FOUND NEW LAND. Broadway, a thrilling escort for Byrd and the 67 men who came back with him today. Cheer after cheer, in ever increasing volume reverberated across Manhattan and Byrd was forced to arise in his open car and bow time and again, his mother, whom he held in a warm embrace for a moment, then turned to other relatives and friends.

Accompanied by Mrs. Byrd he will reach the city shortly after two o'clock on the afternoon of the 27th.

Following the reception on the Common he will retire to his home in Brimmer St., Back Bay, where he will remain with his family and a few friends until early that evening when he will be guest of honor at a banquet tendered by Mayor Curley. The mayor will present him with a gold medalion, the gift of the city, at that time.

NEW TARIFF IS PROTESTED BY FRANCE

Chamber of Deputies Takes Action and Talks of Making Reprisals

Paris, June 19 (AP)—The committee on customs of the Chamber of Deputies in an order adopted today unanimously requested Premier Tardieu to make representations to the U. S. Government against enforcement of the new tariff bill and, failing to obtain satisfaction, the committee recommends suppression of the most favored nation clause between the United States and France.

Several members of the committee said that the House should be inserted declaring the French customs committee should be free to discuss and to adopt such measures of reprisal as seemed to the committee to be necessary.

Edouard Herriot in a long article published in Le Reveil called the situation a "question of life and death."

Boycott of U. S. Goods. Mexico City, June 19 (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa said editorially today that the attitude of the United States on tariffs was "blind in its insistence" and declared Mexico should retaliate against the tariff-smooth act.

"Our government," said the paper, "is retreating for the new United States tariff law should prohibit the importation of all American products not absolutely indispensable to Mexico."

It urged that the republic turn to the European markets for the automobiles, radio sets, motion pictures and machinery which it now obtains in the United States.

Says U. S. Forfeits Rights to Its Foreign Trade. Madrid, June 19 (AP)—The newspaper Los Seguros said that the United States had forfeited its rights to participate in foreign markets because of "exaggerated protectionism" in the new American tariff.

The American help problem is solved by taking a humanitarian approach and the best are advertised daily in the For Best Solution.

Tells of Deaths

FAIRFAX CRASH TELL NOW 49; WOMAN DIES

Witness at Probe Says Crew Had Only a Flashlight in Search for Bodies

Mrs. Harold A. Batson, of Salem, who was severely burned in the Fairfax-Pinta ship disaster, June 10, died today at Carney Hospital. Her death brought the total number of lives lost to 49. Mrs. Batson was a native of Norfolk, Va. Her body will be sent there for burial.

Members of the crew of the liner Fairfax who went out in a motor lifeboat to seek survivors in the water following the fatal crash with the tanker Pinta on June 10 had nothing but a flashlight to aid their search, the government board of inquiry learned today.

This testimony came from John Moniere, Fairfax boson, who said he was with five men who searched for two hours and a half, finding no one, either alive or dead, and hearing no cries.

Passengers who leaped into the water would have survived for 48 hours, in view of the calm sea, testified Capt. Heaton H. Robinson, pilot aboard the Fairfax to take it through the Cape Cod canal.

Robinson said if he had been in command he would have ordered a search lasting an hour and a half or two hours.

SOOTY LAND PASSENGERS. He said he believed passengers suffering from burns could have been saved if the search had been more thorough, but he decided not to advise this course, even if he heard the steamship Gloucester was approaching.

Efforts of the probe to clear up the mystery of an order banning the search for survivors ashore from the Fairfax after the crash met with little progress, as McNeill gave his testimony.

In the face of sworn statements that the search was not ordered, McNeill said that he was ordered either by McNeill or Capt. A. H. Brooks to send out no information, McNeill added to that the captain's denial of such an order.

He admitted going to the pilot house, the search and the radio room, where he sent messages to his wife and the president of the line.

NO PANIC, HE SAYS. No rushing of lifeboats, he testified, although he agreed there was "some excitement" and he heard someone say: "Women first!"

Asked if he knew of any order given to members of the crew of the Fairfax to leave the ship, he said: "I don't know of any such order. I don't know of any such order."

"I don't consider it my duty as an officer of the company to find out if anything had been done to ask for assistance," he was asked. McNeill replied: "I had complete confidence in Capt. Brooks."

Brothers' Plane Nears 20th Hour

Chicago, June 19—Aloft 180 hours at 12:40 p. m., the airplane "City of Chicago" soared onward today seeking a new world endurance record.

The pilots, Kenneth and John Hunter, dropped a note early today saying the engine showed no effects of the eight days' ordeal.

Today, in the real sense, the end of the chase, you will find some of the possibilities for profitable investment.

Harvard Pays High Tribute to Seven

Harvard today conferred seven honorary degrees as follows:

MICHAEL HENRY SULLIVAN, master of arts, as judge, as chairman of the Finance Commission of Boston, diligent, just and wise, a citizen worthy to be honored.

HENRY BRADFORD WASHBURN, doctor of divinity, dean of the Episcopal Theological School, sympathetic by nature, broad in outlook and active in counsel.

WILLIAM MORTON WHEELER, doctor of science, in counsel as zoologist and dean of the Bursary Institution, profound student of the social life of insects, who has shown that they also can maintain complex communities without the aid of reason.

KARL TAYLOR COMPTON, doctor of laws, a professor of physics, renowned for his contributions to the study of the structure of matter, and of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

STUDENTS RIOT IN LEOMINSTER

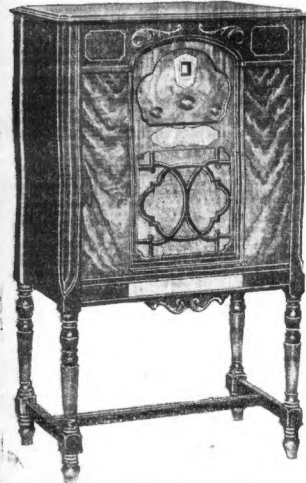

Leominster, June 19.—Every available officer in town was called out, armed with tear gas bombs, to disperse nearly 200 boys students, members of this year's graduating class and the class of 1931 at Leominster high school, when the annual class rush was held in Leominster, yesterday. In a riot in which tomatoes, watermelons and other varieties of fruits and vegetables were hurled freely.

Early today the police had everything under control and had dispersed the mob after traffic had been tied up for hours. Monument today resembles a dump heap. The trouble started when the seniors arrived in Leominster to find much to their disgust, the handsome red banner of the class of 1931 proudly flying from the top of the city hall pole. There was a mad rush for the pole. The juniors met the seniors and blows were exchanged. It was only a few minutes before the square was bespattered with torn clothing.

Drug Sellers Must Register by July 1

Approximately 8000 persons in Massachusetts registered under the Harrison narcotic act for permission to dispense drugs were mailed forms for annual registration today by Internal Revenue Collector Thomas W. White.

Failure to re-register before July 1 renders any person who has succeeded in his possession, or who may have on hand unused orders for preparing drugs, liable to heavy penalties. Those who do not re-register again this year must notify the collector.

FIXIN'S PAY. NEW YORK—Anybody desiring to get rid of an antique upon the use of which there are legal remedies might take a tip. A bar that once was a busy spot in the Moon Bazaar and plenty, was put up at auction. The first offering was $2. Then an empty gin bottle, a sailing bottle and two pieces were placed upon it. All were knocked down for $2.

LEINER. MOSCOW—Joseph Stalin is slated to be first recipient of the Order of Lenin, a newly created decoration for extraordinary service to the country. Communist district parties and trade unions have been urging that he be honored.

DOCTOR SLEUTH. NEW YORK—Sherlock Holmes is a doctor now, a different kind than his friend, Watson. Trinity, Dartmouth and Yale have all given William Gillette honorary degrees within a week.

WASHINGTON.—Commander James A. King, U. S. N., retired, whose service began in the days of wooden sailing ships, has experienced a thrill in the newest form of the service. He had an airplane ride with his son, Lieut. L. C. King, at pilot. The commander in 1832 NEW YORK—New mystery and detective books are to be sold in chain store at 50 cents each.

FAST. NEW YORK—A record has been made by the Bowling Club, president-elect of Columbia, could get to the theater on time. The Pennsylvania railroad cut its fastest time between Washington and New York to 3 hours 26 minutes, a reduction of four minutes.

PROTECTOR. SEVILLE, SPAIN—The future King of Spain has a devoted attendant named Teddy. He rides on the running board of the royal

By ANTHONY SKELDING
HEARD ON THE R.10

"Yeah! We were comin' back from Old Orchard... gosh! 50 and we passed a couple of cops at York! It was early and there wasn't much on the road... At Hampton they began to thicken up... we kept it up though, maybe goin' 55 in spots. We make the front of the line. A couple of who there gives the boiler, but we keep goin'! Say, that bridge at Newburyport is something awful! The block cops at both ends don't help any, either. Thinkin' that maybe we was here chased we go through the town on the limp... up the back streets to Bowdoin's old stand... No, he ain't there any more. We go up and make for the Ocean Boulevard... Say, hey! don't we make some good time on that road?... Then we smell the hot dogs from Salisbury... a regular village. We grab a hand of dogs and shoot for the main pile again. The pleaders are out now and gettin' in as we... all of 'em startin' back for the big burg. We do some more under 50 but a guy in a big eight went out as we... we hit it up to 60, then he slows down at a crossing and we give him the razz whizzin' by. We look back and see a cop on a bike—now we push the limit till we look back and see him any more. The old bus was stalling and you know he'll be in Danvers is some cinch. We make the first one O. K. Then we look ahead and don't see nothin' but cars—miles of 'em. We make the first line but the next wasn't so easy—some of them was hittin' it up, too. A guy behind shoots out and tries to get ahead of us. Say, he had some nerve! We ain't goin' to let him get away with it, so we start on the pass, too. Twice we ducked back into line when we see some cars comin' head on. The guy is still behind on the next hill we see the big Danvers hospital—maybe it was premonition. We start out again to pass—the guy behind is with us yet. He sees 'em comin' on and pushes us back in—but we don't quite make it! Zip! And then we don't know nothin'. I come in in a ditch of mud. Well! My old Pal—gee! He was outer luck. Left him at the hospital. Lucky that it happened so near, wasn't it? Hurt much? Yeah! A few internal injuries, and a eye cut. He'll be out in a couple months."

PEPPING THE LIFE GUARDS
Rose Guard: Boys, I want you to give me your full attention now while I tell you all you gotta do in the ocean's job. We are going to have a lot of business this hot weather. Every man must do his bit to keep up the morale of the service, we gotta reputation to keep up. Now, you are lookin' fine... physically fit and you got plenty of fun... but you gotta do more than look like heroes. You really gotta be heroes at times. I ain't goin' to stand for any of that old time stuff of peepin' around like you ain't got nothin' to do but look pretty. You gotta cut out a lot of that flirtn' stuff and tend right to business. We gotta tell any time someone from headquarters make 'em around here to get somethin' on you. If we want make dates, you can do it after duty hours... and then ain't no more days as you all know. Of course, if you ain't laid on extra too much and have gone 'crabbin' on your long swims we can't help that—they have accidents even at the best of regulated beaches. Now, look, run out and take your stations and look like you was the crowd. Show some class! You're a great gang and I'm proud of you!

NO ADVANCE IN SUGAR PRICE

No immediate increase in the retail price of sugar may be expected for the present, on account of the new tariff, according to the trade. The American Sugar Refining Co., on the opening of the market June 17, made a slight increase in prices, from 4.50 cents a hundred to 4.70 cents.

The New Sugar Refining Co., as of June 16, increased the price from 4.50 cents a hundred to 4.60 cents.

The retail price of 5 cents prevails in the chain stores.

At all stores of the three leading companies the weekend purchase of 10 pounds for 47 cents has been in effect for some time.

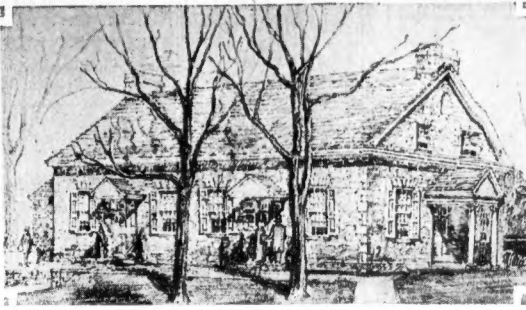

It was stated at the office of the division of necessities of life at the State House (the new commission) that the sugar situation will be carefully watched but retail dealers take undue advantage of the slight tariff increase and consequent increase to them by the refineries.

Consumers may expect, in the course of months, an increase of probably one cent a pound, refinery officials stated today.

Brown and Yellow Predicted for Autumn Wear

Since we are in the warm regions of the mode and are showing you full-trimmed coats, we will complete our expedition into autumn by showing you a sketch of one of Patou's new evening coats and much admired in his new collection. It is a handsome model of chocolate-colored velvet, lavishly trimmed with heavy black fox.

The three pointed panels bordered with fox at the skirt edge are separated at the hemline, and if worn with a long skirt this effect is as good as it is in the sketch, where the skirt is entirely covered. This model has already been covered in black velvet with a wide border of fox for full trimming, and so can be regarded as a representative model.

"The neighborhood theater audience is much more the critical and demanding audience than the city people. They take their movies seriously. They are more moral in their type of picture. If they don't get what they want they stay at home and read or listen to the radio. The downtown audience goes through shyness and for mere amusement, but the neighborhood audience takes their movies as they would serious things in their lives." Mrs. Winter particularly stressed

ONE OPPORTUNITY GANGSTERS

Chicago, June 19 (AP)—John H. Alcock, the "iron man," who has been made acting commissioner of police, today swung a two-edged sword that aimed at gangsters without the law and dishonest officers within.

The new commissioner had this information from Mayor Thompson: "Your first job is to get every gangster in Chicago. Your second is to get the evidence that will send every one of them to the penitentiary or to the electric chair. You have a free hand. You will not be interfered with."

Alcock announced his intention of purging the department of crooked police. The Herald and Examiner today quoted him as saying that one out of every five men in the police department is or has been on the payroll of racketeers. The latter, he was quoted as saying, are pulling in every rank, from patrolman to captain.

The murder of Alfred (Jack) Ling, Tribune reporter, will have a prominent part in the investigation of gangster-police activities. Alcock said, for authorities believe this slaying may involve the key boss to gang domination and to police scandal.

The commissioner, following his conference with Mayor Thompson, met the Civil Service Commission, which is in charge of trials of police against whom charges are made. He intimated that there might be many such trials, and he stated assurance that he would get full co-operation and that political influences would not be permitted to protect any accused.

In Alcock's opinion, 500 crooks cause virtually all the criminality in Chicago. The acting commissioner, like his predecessor, William Russell, planned prohibition and the selling of beer by means of syndicates for Chicago's present crime situation.

"Kidnap King" Confesses, Links Police and Lawyer

Detroit, June 19 (AP)—Detroit police today announced they had obtained confessions involving a high police official and a prominent attorney from the slaying of Laman, convicted kidnaper, and other leaders of Laman's gang of kidnapers and murderers.

Laman told a detailed story of the "kidnaping racket" in Detroit covering a 10-year reign of terror which culminated last year in the kidnaping and murder of David Cass, son of George Cass, wealthy retired real estate man.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars ransom money was collected by the gang.

Services Saturday for Drowning Victim

The funeral of John F. Milliken, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Milliken, drowned Tuesday at Foxboro, will be from St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Broadway and E. St., South Boston, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Frank M. Batholomew officiating. The burial will be at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Milliken of 92 St. St., the boy's mother, denied that he had been missing before he was drowned in a pond while attending an outing of the children of St. Matthew's Church. She had been with him a half hour before the tragedy.

Secret Wedding

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Mayor Thompson today called the special Senate session for consideration of the London naval treaty issued today.

Facing a lam of controversial legislation, adjournment of the regular session as scheduled for next week, appeared unlikely.

The rivers and harbors bill, the veterans' pension bill, the interstate bus regulation bill and the second appropriation bill have stormy sailing ahead in the closing days.

As a result, the Senate may not conclude its work until shortly before July 4. The special session will be called by President Hoover, who would not meet until the week following the July Fourth holiday.

Yesterday the Senate Foreign Relations committee moved into the treaty report. It will be submitted to the Senate next Monday.

Chairman Borah will submit the treaty with but a brief sentence, stating that it has received a majority approval of the committee. Senator Johnson, heading the opposition, will submit a comprehensive minority report setting forth the objections to the pact.

Ends Life With Gas in Church Kitchen

Springfield, June 19 (AP)—In his second attempt in two months, Gustav Bergkvist, 47, former police liquor spotter, of Hallowell, Me., was hanged during the night in the kitchen of the Liberty Baptist Church here, of which he was a member.

The body was discovered by the janitor, Forest C. Roberts, who smelled gas on going the church today and traced it to the basement kitchen. Early two gas jets were open.

Barriers Loom Ellsworth to Special Session

Paris, June 19 (AP)—Capt. Sir George Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, and Lincoln Ellsworth, American who has spent much of his life in the Arctic regions today announced collaboration in an attempt next year to reach the North Pole by means of a submarine.

At Leningrad, Switzerland, Capt. Wilkins issued a statement saying Mr. Ellsworth, who was a joint leader with Roald Amundsen on the flight of the Norge across the North Pole, will be assisted with him as joint leader in the projected exploration trip, to be known as the Wilkins-Ellsworth trans-arctic submarine expedition.

The statement continued: "Commander Roald Amundsen will be master of the vessel and Dr. H. Sverdrup, the chief of the scientific staff. They expect to leave New York for Spitzbergen next June, and, traveling under the ice, cross the North Pole en route to Alaska late in August."

"A definite decision as to whether Mr. Ellsworth will actually make the journey will be delayed until he returns the summer from an expedition to Labrador."

Mr. Ellsworth, arriving in Paris from Basel, en route to America, confirmed Capt. Wilkins' announcement.

Mr. Ellsworth will leave for America Saturday and will depart from New York almost immediately in an 80-ton canoe trip to the unexplored headwaters of the St. John's and Hamilton rivers in central Labrador.

Beckman Tools, a Harvard Junior, will accompany him. She had 13 classmates and gave away 13 class pictures.

Lucky Thirteen

MARY FRANCES HENRY of Peabody was born in 1913, graduated on Friday, June 13, with honors, and had 13 classmates.

Life is just one 13 after another—and all of them lucky—for Mary Frances Henry of Lynn St., Peabody.

She was born in 1913. On Friday, the thirteenth, she was graduated from St. John's high school, Peabody, with highest honors, received first prize for Latin and for perfect attendance, and was awarded a pearl pendant and gold cross for general excellence and effort.

She had 13 classmates and gave away 13 class pictures.

FEWER JOBLESS, SAYS LABOR HEAD

Washington, June 19 (US)—The unemployment situation has materially improved and there is every indication that the country is again on the road to prosperity, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted after a conference with President Hoover yesterday.

He said: "It seems to me, from all the information I have been able to obtain, the situation is particularly encouraging now."

"There is every evidence that the low tide has been reached and that there is a sound trend in the direction of the resumption of industrial activities and wholesome employment."

President Green said he could not see the White House to urge President Hoover to expedite tabulation of the unemployment survey being made in connection with the drought census.

Finance Chief Quits

Berlin, June 19 (AP)—Dr. Hans Moldebert, minister of finance, has resigned his cabinet post.

GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR CO.

BOSTON, U. S. A.

America OK's
its new shave!

ON MARCH 6 we announced a new razor and blade. We offered it to the American public as the "greatest shaving improvement in 28 years." Men tried the new product and agreed we had not exaggerated. ¶ Never before in history have so many men agreed so unanimously about the perfect shaving qualities of a razor and blade. ¶ If you haven't yet tried the New Gillette Blade, see your dealer today.

The American is FIRST
in Gillette Newspaper Contest

We take pleasure in announcing that the American, competing against other newspapers in cities of more than 250,000 population, has won first place in the nationwide Gillette Newspaper Contest.

This contest offered prizes in the form of extra advertising for the greatest amount of sales cooperation rendered by a newspaper in helping to launch the new Gillette products locally.

MORRIS PLAYS POWER TRUST CENSORSHIP

By M. L. RAMSAY

Washington, June 19.—In a stinging denunciation of the attempted censoring of Ambassador Sackett's speech before the world power conference, Senator George W. Norris (R., of Nebraska), yesterday assailed efforts of the power trust and Samuel Insull to control American politics.

Norris attacked the Chicago power magnate for assuming to tell an ambassador "what he can say" and for his "un-American" attitude.

"He bought up practically all the newspapers in the State of Maine, so he could control the politics of the State."

"He is part of the power trust that has kept into the dark door of the subterranean of America, and gone into its lair, where its members are organized, its members are organized."

When the power leaders attempted to suppress Sackett's views about electricity being sold at a price of 15 cents per kilowatt, they had no idea that the public would become public, Norris declared. It was after the publicity, he said, that leaders decided they had gone "too far."

Insull Leaves Berlin Before Sackett Speech

Berlin, June 19 (UPI)—Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett, who over the attempted censorship of an unstarred speech, which was rewarded with applause by the world power conference here.

"The American envoy's duel with Insull was featured in the German press, and as a result the largest audience at the conference here heard Ambassador Sackett read President Hoover's greetings and make his original speech," Insull, however, slipped out of Berlin before the ambassador spoke and went to London.

MAY STILL ADD TO CENSUS

Additional persons within the city proper who were not recorded by census takers in recent tabulations continue to pour into the office at the Boston Evening American.

Names are being forwarded to the census bureau for tabulation for recent purposes that the real Boston figures can be reported to Washington.

N. Y. Men Appeal Vagrancy Cases

Three-Fingered Jerry, otherwise known as Harry Cohen, of New York city today was sentenced to one year in the house of correction, convicted before Judge Good of being a vagrant. The bank clerk, Harry of New York, received the same sentence and both appealed.

'Appeals Sentence in 'Good' Liquor Case

Norfolk, Barnet, in the Railway arrested May 15, in the Railway club, Yarmouth at, South End, for alleged keeping and exposing a saloon and one-half of "good" liquor, was fined $100 and sentenced to two months in jail by Judge Charles Carr in court today. Barnett appealed.

Dog Fish Wears His Mitten Innertube Round His Gills

A dog fish with a section of inner tube wrapped around the gills was taken in the fish pier by the fishing schooner Gertrude De Costa today. Oscar Pith, a dockman aboard the schooner, when trawling off Brown's Bank, noticed among his catch of cod and haddock a dog fish with what appeared to be a red tube around its gills. On closer inspection he discovered it was a piece of inner tube such as fishermen wear on their wrists to hold mittens secure.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

I have been reading, in your paper, the account of the Fair-fax disaster.

How about this solution as to whether or not SOS was sent? Antenna Argument—It is said that the message could not go out because the antenna was down; but in tests made by the United States Navy a message could be sent a distance of 20 miles without antenna, and also with antenna immersed in water. If the SOS was sent on a broad interfering wave every receiver within range would have had their reception distorted. Were the required emergency sent when the operator was forced out of the radio room?

Operator claims to have sent SOS. Perhaps he did, but in his sudden excitement did he put the antenna change-over switch into transmitting position (i. e. throwing switch blade up in receiving or downward in transmitting)? Or did he send SOS on 300 K. C. S. (the distress wave) or the ship's assigned wave?

The Tampa was the first to get the call, but why was the Gloucester, owned by the same company, sent for to take off passengers hours after the accident when the Tampa could have taken the injured ashore hours earlier? It looks as though it was a case of economy for the company regardless of economy of life. (The rules regarding assisting ships in distress: Ships of the same company help each other when possible, in which case there is no charge. Where ships of other companies are given assistance, in reply to an SOS, the owners of the assisting ship pay the owners of the assisting ship for the service.) Does the above apply in this case?

West Newton.

Reader Wants Seven Questions Answered

Editor Boston American:

Your paper of June 1 contained a line on the editorial page important to all: "Guard Against Cancer."

If the fact finding body of the press will answer these questions it may throw a little light on "old age with his aches and pains."

1. Do electrical currents pass through the entire body from South Pole to North Pole?

2. Do water and moist earth carry said current. Pole to Pole?

3. Do whales, alligators, turtles, etc., live long lives?

4. Do they have paralysis, rheumatism or cancer?

5. Why does certain soil produce large pine trees, but produce no other varieties of trees?

6. Is there a flower called touch-me-not? If there is what happens if a person touches it?

7. Is there anyone who believes that the legs, arms and head are the roots of the human body?

A very limited knowledge of the six questions above cause me to ask your assistance. I believe the seventh.

Wants Repeal of the 18th Amendment

Editor Boston American:

I am a candidate for Congress in the 14th District on the Democratic ticket and stand squarely for the repeal of the 18th amendment and favor the strictest laws to handle the liquor question, no unemployment, the most serious question before the nation, caused by prohibition throwing out of work about one million men, and the industrial competitive system, manufacturers competing against each other for business, adjusting new methods and machines, reducing wages below the living cost, throwing men out of work, wives and children forced to go to work to keep the family alive, is a blot upon our nation, the richest in the world. There has got to be a change in our industrial system; one that will recognize the workers as a part of the business, entitled to a living wage that will allow the wife to stay at home and children to go to school; will give the workers a larger purchasing power and thus increase all business. A national minimum wage based upon the American standard of living: a five-day week of eight hours per day will stabilize business and settle the unemployment question for all time and pass prosperity around in all.

Wants U. S. to Have Own Money System

Editor Boston American:

I challenge any citizen to refute the facts I present in the following letter I sent today to President Hoover:

Hon. Herbert Hoover, President of the United States, White House, Washington, D. C.

Sixty years ago I heard Benjamin F. Butler say: "What is the sense in building great mills and equipping them with labor-saving machinery, unless you pay the workers so they can establish homes and become users and consumers of the good things they produce?"

This seems to me to be good common sense, but at that time the international gold power had succeeded in foisting onto the country the English money system, an asset currency system, an asset currency system, which has been proven to be a gigantic fraud over and over again. As long as the banks are allowed to say they have on deposit six to ten times as much money as there is in existence, so long you must expect great trouble in the world.

This United States must not join the League of Nations and thus become a party to what Great Britain has done, is doing, or may do, in India, Africa, or any other part of the world. Our boasted civilization is not good enough to be forced onto the Oriental nations. It is high time we established in the United States a real American money system which will be fair, just and equitable to all the people, and thus destroy the system by which the world has been plundered and robbed for hundreds of years.

The new American system would put our Government behind the people's savings, as well as behind the bonds of the rich. Conditions in this godly land must be so fair and just that the millions of boys and girls that are coming to replace the older generations can see their way clear to meet as equals intended them to, and live clean, sweet, healthy, useful and happy lives.

Trust for an honest American money system and an honest representative government, such as the founders of this Republic would endorse and approve.

GEORGE H. DERRY.

No, End Children Write History

Editor Boston American:

In answer to a letter headed "Let Children Write the History of Boston," I thought that it would be interesting to know that such a thing is being attempted in a small way in our schools. For a project for 1930, a group of sixty Practical Art Girls of the Hancock School, North End, first grade, of which Miss Gertrude E. Bigelow is principal are editing a small book on the "History of Boston." The book is the entire work of these girls in English and printing. All research work from libraries, old prints, and histories was collected by the girls. The girls are entirely of foreign parentage but a enthusiasm displayed in learning about the Puritan ancestry of Boston, stamped them through future American citizenship.

Visits Pope
Vatican City, June 19.—Cardinal Roussier, archbishop of Quebec, yesterday was received by the Pope, who expressed pleasure that the Canadian prelate had made his voyage to attend the canonization of Canadian martyrs on June 29.

After you've rooted and roared
until your throat throbs, and you've hit home
with a little less pep—

Cheer up with CHELMSFORD

WHEN the home team's heaviest hitter pounds the pill out of the park . . . and you're home, with the game's rush and roar gone, thrilled, but feeling let down and languid . . . cheer up with Chelmsford. There's nothing like Chelmsford's freshening tang to revive and give you new vigor.

Take a frosty, ice-cold bottle and pour a sparkling glassful. Good? You'll say it's wonderful! Choicest Grade-A ginger—exacting carbonation—and sugar that could win a prize for purity, give Chelmsford its lively flavor and zest.

Order family-size bottles of Chelmsford—new England's favorite for twenty-nine years. Get a case at any grocery, drug, confectionery, or delicatessen store.

DAILY ANTIQUE

No. 125

GREAT was the fall of this doll. The very center of the cracked face and head of doll. Let's announce, however, that being around since 1600, as is the fact concerning this doll, would play havoc on most anything. It is called a Colonial Day Doll and is one of the treasured antiques owned by Mrs. Jess E. Rich, at 60 Temple st., Boston. Mrs. Rich is the ninth great granddaughter of John Alden and Priscilla.

In connection with the Massachusetts Tercentenary year, the Boston Evening American is publishing daily photographs of interesting antiques. Owners of antiques of Colonial or early American origin or of historic associations are invited to forward photographs and records for publication. If a photograph is not available, the American will send a cameraman to photograph the antique, providing the owner lives in Greater Boston. Address the Antique Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

*In the U.S. Public Health Reports of 1923, Volume 38, Page 1271, we find the following: "Among short men less than 5 feet 7 inches in height an excess (in weight) of 20% involves an added mortality of 30% above normal. A 40% excess adds 80% to the mortality." We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Clara Bow in Texas Only for 'Rest,' She Declares

Dallas, Tex., June 19 (AP)—Denying that friendship for a Dallas professional man brought her here, Clara Bow, the "it" girl of the movies, today told the Associated Press staff men tales of Southern hospitality had lured her to Texas. Desiring a rest between pictures, Miss Bow said she sought a quiet place where she could get away from Hollywood.

"I'm tired of it all," she said. "We had so many friends here who had begged us to try Southern hospitality, we decided on a moment's notice to come to Dallas and many of our closest friends didn't know it."

Referring to published reports that she had made a $50,000 settlement of a threatened $100,000 alienation of affections suit by a Texas woman wife of the professional man figuring in the story, Miss Bow denied it.

"I didn't even have the money to pay such a thing. My money is tied up in a house trust fund which the studio inaugurated and it can't be touched by anybody."

Miss Bow said reports of a monthly salary of $10,000 for her picture "feature of money" were "a lot of talk."

She explained a telegram received at 1212 from a Hollywood man in which she said she was in love and was "thinking of marry- ing."

"This terrible thing had to come along and might blow up my romance in California," she remarked.

"We had planned to stay until the 15th, but if they keep bothering me, we may leave in two or three days. The studio wired me that night to leave at once but that is impossible."

Miss Bow and her secretary, Miss Daisy Devore, arrived in Dallas Sunday afternoon from Hollywood unannounced, and registered at a hotel under assumed names.

Ground Broken for Franklin Memorial

Philadelphia, June 19—A great memorial to be erected here in honor of Benjamin Franklin.

More than $100,000 for the purpose has been raised by public subscription. Ground was broken yesterday for the stately building which will occupy nearly three acres on the parkway leading from the city for 50 years at $1 a year. The structure will house many records of Franklin's greatness, and exhibit of the progress of the nation, a memorial to his life and work. It will be known as the Franklin Memorial.

It is the intention to have the building completed by the time of Franklin's death, and to have it dedicated to his memory.

50 W. END BOYS GO TO CAMP

Two decades of vacation periods for boys will be rounded out when the first group of 50 boys leave from the West End House, Boston, for the boys' summer camp at Parsonfield, Me., Saturday afternoon.

The camp founded by the late James J. Storrow, philanthropist, and maintained now by his estate, provides a supervised vacation with sports and entertainment. Jack Burns, superintendent of the West End House, will be in charge.

The domestic life problem is solved by taking a kindergarten, kindergarten and the last an advertisement daily in the first of the summer.

'Baby' U. S. Barred 9 Years Ago Can Enter Now

Chicago, June 19 (AP)—The little baby the law locked out can come to America, for its mother, after long years, has become an American.

Nine years ago Fred Speare, in the navy, found a young woman lying wounded in the streets of Vladivostok, in whose harbor his ship was at anchor. He carried her to a hospital and, weeks later, was married to her.

But the marriage was without the authority of his superiors. A ship boss him away and left the bride behind.

In the Philippines months later, Speare was joined by his wife, who there was a new ceremony; but the baby was left in China because the law said it could not be brought into America because it was not American born of American parent.

But today Elizabeth Goshawsky Speare had qualified for citizenship papers and within 30 days the "baby"—a baby no longer—will be on the way to America.

Reform Candidates Win in Atlanta

DRY LAW HIT BY MICHAELSON

Washington, June 19 (US)—Representative M. Alfred Michaelson (R.) of Illinois, long regarded as a dry, yesterday declared the Eighteenth Amendment a failure and the cause of much of the graft, corruption and crime throughout the country.

At the same time, he introduced a bill to repeal the amendment and to place an amendment to the Constitution all power to regulate, prohibit or regulate liquor. Michaelson, who represents a district in Chicago, was not in Congress when the Volstead Act was passed. He did vote for the Campbell act amending the Volstead law.

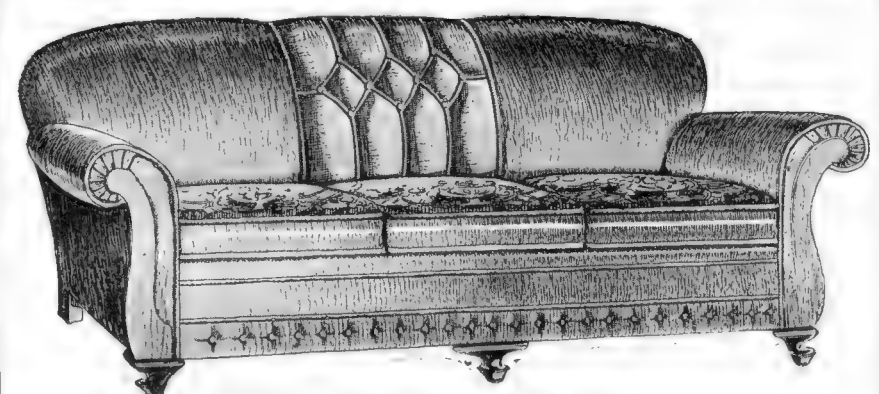

Hoover Illness Denied

Major League Clubs Begin Crucial Series Today

CHANGES IN STANDINGS LIKELY

F By JOE CASHMAN
The third round of East-West baseball battles starts today with the Western clubs of the American League in the East and the Eastern clubs of the National League in the West.

These interregional series result in several shifts in the standings and may bring about a change in the order of the pennant race.

In the American League, the Boston Red Sox have finished in front of the other clubs in the East since 1929, when Cleveland, the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns were the only clubs in the Western division.

Present Series May Cause Standing Changes

There is a possibility of a change in the standings of the American League clubs in the East. The Boston Red Sox have finished in front of the other clubs in the East since 1929, when Cleveland, the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns were the only clubs in the Western division.

STOCKS TURN QUIET AFTER GOOD BALLY

New York, June 19—Stocks turned quiet after staging a good rally in Wall Street today. The opening upswing was sharp and covered a broad list.

Initial gains were extended as trading picked up in a number of heavy issues, though the market began to lose momentum as the day wore on.

By 11:15 a.m. the Dow Jones industrial average had risen 1.34 points to 10,000.10, with the S&P 500 up 1.14 to 3,400.14.

The market was quiet for the remainder of the day, with the Dow Jones index closing at 10,000.10, and the S&P 500 at 3,400.14.

TWO MARKETS ALIKE

There was a striking similarity in the market action for the week to date as the market opened on a high note, the M. I. index rose 1.34 points to 1,000.40 and a price war with the Dow Jones on Tuesday.

When the market opened on Wednesday, a large volume of buying orders for high-priced stocks, such as General Electric, IBM, and American Telephone & Telegraph, was executed. In turn, municipal bonds, long overlooked, prompted a flurry of buying covering all the openings, when prices left forward as basis, rose from 100 to 100.50 shares were executed.

After the initial buying orders were disposed of a little more Bangover liquidation had to be absorbed. It was not of importance, however, as the market was in a preparatory position for the many big bulls of the market in the belief that a substantial technical comparatively dull after the morning trading, however, as it closely followed the pattern which it uses at such times.

NEWS OF NO IMPORT.

There was practically nothing in the day's business news to influence the market, and Wall Street was left to conclude that the recovery was purely a correction of an oversold condition.

Some commission houses advised their customers cautiously to acquire shares of the new issue, but market sentiment in the general remained uncertain, which was not surprising in view of the fact that of recent years the

The failure of a small, local Stock Exchange house, was announced last night, but it has no influence on the market. Yesterday, then did suspension of both a New York Cotton Exchange house and a Chicago Board member.

The advance was sharp in the more volatile issues when evidence was made favorable targets for bear selling.

Speculative confidence was strengthened in the last hour when the advances failed to bring out fresh offerings.

Late P. M. buyers sold a commitment of gains ranging from over 2 points in U. S. Steel to 1 1/2 in People's Gas. American Telephone was up more than 1/2. American Gas and Rubber

VACATIONS ON WITH EXTRA
HELP NEEDED

By FRANK H. MELOON
Within the past fortnight 10 stock exchange houses were offering bonuses to workers who would take their vacations early. July and August are the favorite vacation months. The result was that man acceptances were received, and the week's sudden tumultuous activity caught some houses with staffs very much smaller than were needed. In fact, extra help was in demand to keep up with the vast volume of accounting to be done.

Brookridge officers present business, with hundreds working double time, far into the night, endeavoring to keep track of accounts. In addition to the accounts themselves, there have been many calls to send out and follow up the various air delayed and it is expected that transfer officers will be far behind for some time to come just as they were a few weeks ago.

Take with more than the usual caution of said the numerous banks selling stocks that have been carrying as collateral stocks carried merely as an accommodation in patrons. Banks do not carry stocks to "accommodate" anyone. They are business institutions and would not be following sound business policy, or even likely one, by accepting collateral which was not sufficient to protect their loans. The "bears," of course, know this.

There is a gradual awakening in opinion circles to the fact pointed out in this column long ago that car-loadings do not tell the complete story of freight movement. Just as railroad passenger revenues have been steadily declining in the vast majority of cases as a result of automotive competition, so freight loadings have undergone somewhat similar recessions.

understands the importance of automotive freight movements and is now looking into the activities of forward companies. Considerable difference of opinion exists as to whether the automotive carrier should be subjected to federal regulation, and, if so, to how much.

Chairman G. C. Woodruff of the United States Freight Co. says:

"This is part of a general inquiry into holding companies which has been extended to embrace the activities of forwarding companies and United States Freight Co., through its subsidiary, Eastern Cracker Co."

tributing (o., which is on record as stating that it would welcome not only supervision, but complete regulation by Interstate Commerce Commission or other proper regulatory bodies with a view that business of forwarding companies might be stabilized in a way comparable with that of railroads, that rate might be published and be fixed by tariff publication and not subject to change in quotation or special arrangements, as is sometimes the case at present.

Business Economic Digest today states:

"There has hardly been an occasion during the last six or seven years when advisory reports have been so uniformly confident as to the future course of security prices. In the few instances where authorities are inclined to be cautious or pessimistic, they recommend that su-fluent funds be invested in common stocks to establish and maintain an important long position. However, there appears to be no one so courageous as to forecast an immediate broad upward movement in stock prices, and there seems to be a feeling that during the next month or six weeks the market is likely to exhibit a churning movement with little progress either on the up or down side; and, even though more new lows may be established the investors holding fixed that investors holding good securities should not liquidate."

Flying Longshoreman

Boston has the distinction of having the only "flying longshoreman" in the country. Paddy St. John, known in Cunard company circles as the "flying hatchman," is taking regular lessons at the airport. In another month, he will attempt his first solo flight. He has perfect accord at home as to his high flying, for he has sold the idea to his wife, a charming young Lynn girl. She has been up several times. Paddy also has converted his associate, Mike Ezekel, who enjoys air trips.
